Reds step up attacks

SAIGON, Saturday (UPI) — Soviet-made rockets crashed into airports at two of South Vietnam's major cities today and Communist infantry stormed into three more hamlets within 25 miles of Saigon, while warring capitals bickered over cease-fire terms.

The South Vietnamese command reported that 20 big 122 mm rockets whizzed into the Da Nang Air base area about 3 a.m., wounding at least one civilian and damaging two homes. The command said a soldier was wounded when four of the 6-foot-long rockets struck Pleiku City's Cu Hau Airport.

UPI reporter Ed Bassett in Da Nang said at least a dozen of the rockets landed in the air base, damaging two homes. One rocket landed in front of the terminal where American servicemen wait for plane transportation. There were no American casualties.

The Communists also lobbed eight J22mm rockets into the old Cu Chi base camp, formerly occupied by the U.S. 25th Infantry Division. Under cover of the barrage aimed at the base, now occupied by the South Vietnamese 25th Division, they invaded three hamlets within four miles northwest of Cu Chi district town, military sources said.

Government regulars and militiamen were moving in to try to drive the Communists out of the area but Highway 1, the main road between Saigon and Phnom Penh, remained cut between Cu Chi and Trang Bang, 30 miles northwest of Saigon, military sources said.

In two battles Friday between Cu Chi and Trang Bang, four Communists and three government soldiers were killed, military sources said.

The Communists also menaced Dat Do and Xuyen Moc, two major towns within 45 miles southeast

GM, Ford seek price boosts

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. said Friday they would ask the Federal Price Commission to grant price increases on 1973 model cars and trucks because of lower profit margins in the third quarter.

The No. 1 and No. 2 automakers complained that inability to recover the costs of government-mandated equipment changes contributed to lower profits during the months of July, August and September.

GM and Ford were denied permission by the Price Commission in September to raise prices an average of $34 and $59 respectively. The commission said, however, that the companies could resubmit their requests for price increases after the third quarter financial report was completed.

The financial statements of both companies appear to be aimed at justifying the higher prices. In fact, Ford said it would ask for a $92 price adjustment.

GM did not say how much it would ask for, but GM Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg and President Edward N. Cole said the firm intends to resubmit a request for price increases on its 1973 model cars and trucks and is hopeful of an early favorable decision.

9 Nixon vetoes,
more due today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon announced Friday he was vetoing as too costly nine bills approved in the dying days of the 92nd Congress. One was the compromise of an HEW-Labor Department appropriation he vetoed less than three months ago for the same reason.

Nixon conceded it might be "politically very damaging" to veto the bills this close to the Nov. 7 election, but said it would require a tax increase to finance them. He estimated the nine would exceed his budget by $2.75 billion in two years.

"I cannot sign (them) without breaking my promise to the American people to do all in my power to avoid the necessity of a tax increase next year," he said in a statement.

THE White House said additional vetoes would be announced today. All are pocket vetoes, meaning that with Congress now adjourned for the year, the bills are killed automatically for lack of a presidential signature.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee which drafted several of the vetoed measures, said he was "outraged by this cynical and hypocritical decision" by Nixon to reject the legislation. Speaker Carl Albert called it "callous treatment" of basic U.S. needs.

The President also signed 18 bills Friday, including defense appropriations and military construction measures totaling $76.7 billion for the current fiscal year.

White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman said Nixon's vetoes were an attempt

Hanoi 'barbs' held no threat to peace

By B. GWERTZMAN
New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — High administration officials said Friday that despite North Vietnam's latest polemical statements in Paris, they remained confident that an Indochina peace settlement would be concluded in a matter of weeks.

Asked about North Vietnam's renewed insistence in Paris that the draft agreement on a cease-fire and political machinery, made public in summary form Thursday, be signed by next Tuesday without any further changes, one official said: "We've gone through this with the Vietnamese before. It's a sort of diplomatic minuet. They signal us. We signal them. And we move closer together."

HE SAID that it was expected that Le Duc Tho, Hanoi's politburo member who has negotiated the nine-point draft agreement with Henry A. Kissinger, will return to Paris from Hanoi in a few days, and this should provide the opportunity for the additional round of talks sought by President Nixon to resolve tempt to halt "the continuing vice of the process to authorize now and pay later." In effect, he said, they were an attempt to "veto higher taxes."

EHRLICHMAN estimated that Congress overspent the President's self-imposed $250 billion ceiling this year by $10 billion. Most of the cutbacks necessary to hold spending to that ceiling will come from withholding appropriated funds rather than vetoes, he said.

Friday's announced vetoes brought the total to 29 since Nixon was elected — and 14 for this year alone.

Of the latest nine, Nixon said:

"If I were to sign these measures into law, I would in effect be making promises that could not be kept, since the funds required to finance the promised services are not available and would not be available without the higher taxes."

The spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, insisted at a news conference that the full agreement that he said the two men had already reached included all the points that Kissinger said

Nixon said the nine would breach the fiscal 1973 budget by $750 million and by nearly $2 billion the following year. The biggest, the Rehabilitation Act of 1972, would have authorized excess spending of $1,380,000 in the two years ending June 30, 1974.

AMONG the nine was a compromise appropriation for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare still $35 million over his budget request. A similar measure vetoed Aug. 16 went $1.8 billion over Nixon's request.

HEW-Labor spending will continue until Feb. 28 under a stopgap "continuing resolution" which Congress passed to assure that neither department would run out of money.

It is possible that we are seeing the return of peace in that part of the world."

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said Friday there will be no cease-fire or peace in Vietnam until he personally signs the agreement worked out by the United States and North Vietnam. Thieu addressed legislators who had marched through the streets to his Independence Palace in a demonstration of their solidarity with the president.

"We are not afraid of a cease-fire and the peace," Thieu said. "I am sure it will come. But it will come only when I personally sign the treaty for a cease-fire and peace."

the details that have sprung up during the rapid pace of the negotiations this month.

During his news conference Thursday, Kissinger said "peace is at hand" in Indochina and a final agreement needed only one more negotiating session.

He acknowledged that when Hanoi put forth its package proposal on Oct. 8 which ended the diplomatic stalemate, it also insisted that a final accord would be reached "in a matter of weeks or less."

But Kissinger said six or seven specific issues had arisen which must be resolved

N. Viets claim accord wider than disclosed

PARIS — North Vietnamese spokesman in Paris said Friday that the points of agreement reached by Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho in Paris went far beyond those issued by the Hanoi government. He termed Hanoi's lengthy statement merely a summary.

The spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, insisted at a news conference that the full agreement that he said the two men had already reached included all the points that Kissinger said

Le repeatedly said that Hanoi still expected the United States and North Vietnamese foreign ministers to sign the agreement here next Tuesday. "Peace is at the tip of the pens," Le said.

QUESTIONS aimed at eliciting Hanoi's position if Washington refuses were studiously bypassed by Le. But he avoided any flat statement ruling out another negotiating session before signature, though the sense of his argument was

At one point, when asked whether there were even more points agreed than those he was revealing, he brandished a mimeographed document in Vietnamese and said: "You can judge for yourself. You can see how thick it is. This is the agreement.

Le refused to give the number of pages, but it looked about half an inch thick.

The points of agreement going beyond the published text that were mentioned by Le were these:

Detailed arrangements for the implementation of a cease-fire and assurances against clashes as the belligerents dig in for negotiations from territory under their control: "The stationing of troops after the cease-fire has been settled," Le said.

Laos chief expects China role in truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma of Laos said Friday after a White House meeting with President Nixon that the People's Republic of China will play a role in an Indochina peace settlement.

He told newsmen that Peking had taken part in the 1954 and 1962 Geneva conferences on Indochina and, he added, "I think they will play a role in the settlement now. Nothing can happen without the Chinese participation."

McGovern, Kennedy together rip Nixon

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Out of a gray October sky, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Friday said. President Nixon with four horsemen of a different color.

"Ted" Kennedy appeared with and on behalf of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., before several thousand rooters at a noon rally in the Laurel Plaza Shopping Center of North Hollywood. Referring to legend's apocalyptic horsemen, war, pestilence, famine and death, Kennedy said the four horsemen are riding again in the Nixon administration. Incompetence on the issues, favoritism for the special interests, secrecy from the people and corruption of honest government.

"It isn't easy," said Kennedy, "to be found with your hand in the till, your foot in your mouth, your tongue in your cheek and your eye on the polls all at the same time and that's what Richard Nixon's been doing for the last four years."

McGovern checked off all points in his litany of censure of the Nixon administration but closed with a point-by-point summary of the President's nine latest vetoes.

Calling their demise a "moral outrage," McGovern noted Nixon vetoed all appropriations for health, education and welfare "including money for schools, for relieving the property tax burden, the food stamp program and for training doctors."

He said the veto of the Public Works Act stops the chance of putting California unemployed back to work on cleaning up pollution.

Three vetoes involved bills by Sen. Alan Cranston, who also appeared at the rally with McGovern. It was on these bills that the senator expressed his greatest indignation. One was the Veterans' Health Care Expansion Act, one the Veterans' Cemetery Bill and one the Rehabilitation Act.

The points of agreement going beyond the published text that were mentioned by Le were these:

Detailed arrangements for the implementation of a cease-fire and assurances against clashes as the belligerents dig in for negotiations from territory under their control: "The stationing of troops after the cease-fire has been settled," Le said.

not only unwilling to meet the physical needs of care for returning veterans but "won't even spend the money for decent burial — what an outrage."

Airport development and flood control bills vetoed were bills designed to give people work, McGovern said.

McGovern repeated his hope that the war will end, "that not one more human life will be taken, but why, Mr. Nixon, do you now accept terms to end the war that you could have had four years ago?"

The candidate said Nixon's current nine vetoes "are the most effective way to tell you what's wrong with Richard Nixon's domestic priorities, and to warn you what you're up against if there are four more years."

Actress Candice Bergen opined that the war had been reduced to a political issue under Nixon and "prisoners of war made a bonus in an election campaign." She charged that

Chance of showers for the weekend

The chance of scattered, light showers will hover over the Long Beach area this weekend, the National Weather Service predicted Friday.

Temperatures will follow Friday's lead—with a registered high of 70 and a low of 58—said a weather service spokesman, but added, will dip to about 50 degrees.

Combined News Services

Israeli police questioned an American tourist in Tel Aviv in connection with murder by mail bombs posted to President Nixon and two top members of his Cabinet. The youth was cleared of suspicion Friday but detained "for his own protection."

Dennis Feinstein, 22, of Stockton, Calif., was originally imprisoned for 10 days by a magistrate court on suspicion of sending the explosive letters to the President, Secretary of State William Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird.

Feinstein, who arrived in Israel several weeks ago, was captured by an Army patrol Wednesday when, police said, he tried to cross into Lebanon. Police said he has admitted trying to cross the frontier but has denied sending the three letter bombs.

The light-blue air-mail envelopes were discovered Wednesday by postal workers in the northern Israeli border town of Kiryat Shmona. The postmaster said his suspicious were aroused by the stiff letters that apparently contained metal strips.

Supt. Mordechai Tavor of Israel's national police said after Wednesday's interrogation of Feinstein that "there is nothing serious about the case."

"He (Feinstein) is confused and considers himself an emissary of a divine idea," said Tavor.

Threat

Antonia Diaz testified Friday her cousin, former Irwindale City Councilman Richard Breceda, threatened to expose the alleged extramarital affairs of her son, Irwindale Mayor Richard Diaz, in a battle over whether to legalize gambling in their city.

Mrs. Diaz said she telephoned Breceda one day after one of his supporters nearly ran her off the road. She said Breceda told her Diaz never should have sent out a public letter opposing the legalization of gambling.

Breceda and two others are accused of plotting to blackmail Diaz by dragging him and then taking lewd pictures of him with a nude woman in an effort to force his support for legalizing gambling. Diaz was estranged from his wife at the time.

Boggs hunt

The Air Force gave the first indication Friday that the search for Democratic House Majority Leader Hale Boggs and three others may be called off.

Air Force Maj. Henry Stocker, director of the search at Elmendorf AFB, said the rescue center locates 99 per cent of the planes that they look for. "But this may be our first suspended search of the year," Stocker told newsmen. "But we haven't given up hope of finding it."

The search continued in its 12th day along the mountainous Alaska coastline. At least 28, and possibly as many as 100 of the men, died as a direct result of untreated syphilis.

Syphilis experiment

WASHINGTON—A federal panel recommended Friday that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare close the books on a controversial Alabama syphilis experiment and treat the study's survivors. HEW officials said they would comply as rapidly as possible. During the experiment, which began in rural Macon County, Ala., in 1932, at least 430 black men with syphilis were denied treatment for the disease so that doctors could determine through eventual autopsy what damage the disease does to the human body. At least 28, and possibly as many as 100 of the men, died as a direct result of untreated syphilis.

Integration turmoil

NEW YORK—A bustle of black seventh-graders braved a crowd of shouting, cursing white parents Friday and walked through a corridor of policemen into a Brooklyn junior high school where white parents said they would "never be welcome." It was the first day of classes this year for the 31 students, who have been the focal point of a seven-week integration dispute.

Train tradition dies

WASHINGTON—Amtrak said Friday it would double its New York-Florida passenger train service this winter, but it canceled a winter season tradition of 84 years, the Florida Special. The Florida Special made its first run in 1888. Described as "unbelievable for its time," the train advertised "incandescent lights, steam heat and closed passageways between cars." It was the first all-electrically lighted train, featuring cut glass chandeliers, mirrors and many other luxury items of its day.

INTERNATIONALAirliner crashes, 68 aboard*More Chile strife

SANTIAGO, Chile—Street violence broke out for the third consecutive day Friday in Santiago as negotiations resumed between President Salvador Allende's government and groups involved in crippling nationwide strikes. Reports persisted, at the same time, that the armed forces will soon enter Allende's cabinet. High school age youths opposed to Allende's coalition set bonfires of trash and old automobile tires in downtown streets to block traffic. Employees of the Chilean Central Bank, who staged a traffic stopping demonstration in front of the presidential palace were dispersed with tear gas.

Ulster election delayed

BELFAST—Britain bowed to the demands of Northern Irish Protestants Friday and postponed the Dec. 6 local government elections for up to six months until after a referendum on whether the province should stay British or unite with predominantly Catholic southern Ireland. The British army, meanwhile, announced the capture of two more leaders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, one in Belfast and the other in Londonderry.

Big 4 meet on Berlin

BERLIN—Ambassadors of the United States, Russia, Britain and France met for three hours Friday to discuss their occupation rights in Berlin after the two Germanys join the United Nations. The session was the third by the Big Four World War II Allied powers since the talks began Monday.

Lonely mate kills self on wife's grave

Six days ago, Karen Joy O'Hara, 23, killed herself. Relatives said she and her husband, Michael, 24, were having financial difficulties. A medical examiner's report said she also had health problems.

She left a note to her husband: "God knows I love you," it said, "but somehow it comes out all wrong."

While standing at his wife's grave in Evergreen Cemetery Thursday, O'Hara shot himself and died several hours later.

On his body was a picture of his wife smiling, and a note:

"Karen was and will be my life. There is nothing without her... She did it for me and now I do it for her."

'Gracious'

A Wall Street broker who recently met with Howard Hughes to conclude a multimillion-dollar underwriting job describes the industrialist as "gracious and soft spoken" and not at all bizarre.

Julian Sedlmayr, group vice president with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, told Fortune magazine he met with Hughes in a Nicatagua hotel at 5:40 a.m. on Sept. 25. "Mr. Hughes doesn't operate on the same time as most people," Sedlmayr is quoted as saying in the magazine's November issue.

Because of rumors regarding Hughes' physical and mental health, Merrill Lynch officials decided they should make sure he personally approved the arrangements for the $140-million public offering of Hughes Tool Co.

The offering of the oil tool unit, which reported a profit of $4.3 million last year, marks the first time any of Hughes' holdings will be in others' hands.

Hughes has been described recently as having rolling eyes and long toenails. Sedlmayr told Fortune the billionaire has a beard but said there was nothing unusual about his appearance.

Anti-ugly

Lady Bird Johnson Friday was presented the third annual Damon Woods Memorial Award by the Industrial Designers Society of America for her "conspicuous contributions to the betterment of the environment," in Austin, Tex.

The award was presented by IDSA Vice President F. Eugene Smith, who cited the former first lady for her "successful efforts in drawing national and international attention to the manmade visual pollution — for leading the way and encouraging everyone to become involved in correcting the problem."

"Count me in with those on the front line of any war on ugliness," Mrs. Johnson said in accepting the award.

Historian

Dr. Raymond Sontag, 75, a noted University of California historian and expert on German foreign policy during the 1930s and 1940s, died Friday at his home in Berkeley.

A member of the UC staff for 31 years, Sontag worked for the State Department as chief of the American section of German war documents project in the 1940s.

Working with John Wheeler-Bennett, his British counterpart, Sontag was responsible for microfilming and editing much of the department's documents on Nazi Germany's foreign policy.

Good chance

Geologist-astronaut Harrison H. "Jack" Schmitt said Friday in Washington that America's final Apollo flight stands a good chance of finding the oldest and the youngest lunar material man has ever seen.

Schmitt said conditions in the Taurus-Littrow Valley make it likely that he and command pilot Eugene Cernan will find lunar volcanic cinders one billion years old and rocks up to four billion years old.

Cernan, Schmitt and lunar module pilot Ronald Evans are scheduled to blast off in Apollo 17 the night of Dec. 6 to make America's sixth and final landing on the moon.

DC10 gets intercontinental certification

Douglas to study jet noise

By HERB SHANNON
Aerospace Editor

Douglas Aircraft Co. of Long Beach has been awarded a $225,000 contract by the Federal Aviation Administration to study means of reducing noise generated by commercial jetliners, it was announced Friday by Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Long Beach.

The contract calls for Douglas to conduct studies leading to a definition of aircraft performance as related to noise characteristics of DC8, DC9 and DC10 aircraft.

The four-engine DC8, which is no longer in production at Douglas, and the twinjet DC9 are powered by jet engines of an earlier design than those on the new DC10 trijet.

While sound measurements at various airports rated the DC8 and DC9 across the country have within acceptable noise standards set by the FAA, both aircraft have been the subjects of studies to further reduce noise emissions by modification of engine housings and take-off and landing procedures.

The larger and more powerful engines on the DC10 do not share the noise problem to the same degree. The DC10 has been rated the quietest jetliner in the air by numerous U.S. airport sound abatement commissions.

In an unrelated development Friday, Douglas announced that the FAA has certified the latest model of the DC10 for commercial service.

The FAA certificate for the Series 40 intercontinental range DC10 marks the end of a seven-month flight development program, including three nonstop flight records across the Pacific to Asia and South America earlier this month.

Flight testing of the Series 40 DC10 began last February 29 with a five hour, 25 minute maiden hop. Three planes used in the development program compiled a total of 661 hours and 55 minutes flight time.

The recent record-setting flights were made during the service demonstration required by the FAA for issuance of the type certificate. The production model DC10 flew nonstop from Long Beach to Hong Kong, a distance of 7,677 miles, in 14 hours and 44 minutes; from Honolulu to Buenos Aires, 7,800 miles, in 14 hours and 18 minutes and from Rio de Janeiro back to Long Beach, 6,300 miles, in 11 hours and 52 minutes.

Certification of the Series 40 DC10 clears the way for the first delivery to Northwest Orient Airlines in early November. Northwest has ordered 22 of the aircraft, valued at $440 million.

Rep. Goldwater charges Watson misused his office

By NOEL SWANN
From Our L.A. Bureau

Congressman Barry Goldwater Jr. has charged County Assessor Philip Watson with "misuse of his office" in his efforts to gain passage of Proposition 14, the so-called Watson Amendment, on the November ballot.

Goldwater said Friday he has written to Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown calling to his attention "a substantial body of evidence which points to apparently unlawful conduct" on Watson's part.

He said the strength of contracts for the Air Force's new fighter, the F15 Eagle, McDonnell Douglas Corp. of St. Louis moved from seventh into second place only $5 million behind Lockheed with $1.7 billion or 5.1 per cent of the total contract awards in the fiscal year that ended last June 3.

McDonnell's move shoved General Dynamics of Ft. Worth down a notch to third place with $1.3 billion in contracts or 3.9 per cent of the total awarded.

Lockheed's main work includes the C5A and C130 cargo planes, the S3A and T3 antisubmarine planes and the Poseidon missile. Cost overruns on the C5A and other defense programs amid charges of mismanagement helped bring Lockheed to the brink of bankruptcy a year ago until it was rescued by a $25 million loan guaranteed by the federal government.

The letter says members of the assessor's staff "in violation of Section 43 of the Los Angeles County Charter have campaigned up and down the state" for passage of the measure which basically seeks to impose a ceiling on property taxes.

Goldwater named Watson employees Alan Altman, Gene Ely, Frank Petty, Zack Rottman, Lloyd Men-eg and Fred Kimball as having been "openly campaigning" for the tax initiative.

In addition, he said, Steve Stewart and Mark Rodriguez, press assistants to Watson, have been touring the state contacting the media on behalf of the campaign. Goldwater also charged that the services of most of the staff members have not been reported in the campaign statement filed by proponents of Proposition 14.

Watson was unavailable for comment Friday, but

Altman told newsmen, "We have always known that we had to divorce ourselves from our county jobs in campaigning for the measure and in fact none of us has campaigned on county time."

He said campaigning was always done on the employees' own time or when it was done during county working hours the employees either were on vacation or had taken official leave.

"A check of the county's payroll records will confirm this," Altman said.

Drug raids in Napa net 36 suspects

NAPA (UPI) — The number of persons taken into custody in a series of narcotics raids in Napa County rose to 36 Friday with the arrest of three more suspects.

Undersheriff Tom Johnson said the three persons, including a young woman, were charged with possession of heroin, marijuana, barbiturates and dream drugs.

He added "more arrests" were expected but declined to say how many.

The raids, conducted by city police, sheriff's deputies and district attorney's investigators culminated a lengthy probe which involved a number of undercover agents.

The raids conducted Tuesday and Wednesday involved 28 homes.

A tangled love triangle involving a well-to-do woman, her 45-year-old husband, and his 25-year-old mistress unfolded in Los Cerritos Municipal hearing for Seymour Kresh of Artesia, preliminary Kresh, 1730 Alburts, was arrested Oct. 6 after the decomposed body of his wife, Mary, 55, was found stuffed in a trash can in the Kresh garage.

Identification of Mrs. Kresh was established by fingerprints.

"I decided not to see him again," Miss Berglas testified.

SUBSEQUENTLY she saw Kresh three times — once at dinner with his daughter and once when she lent him $300 on Oct. 5.

The day after, when Whitley and others arrived to arrest Kresh, the defendant told him where two guns were located, the sergeant testified. One of them, according to testimony, was the .38-caliber handgun which Kresh fired at his wife.

The sergeant testified that Kresh said he went for the gun in the closet at the height of a long argument during which she refused to lend him $12,000 to "pay off some shysters" who were threatening his family in New York.

Whitley said Kresh had also admitted forging checks on a reported $100,000 bank account from the March sale of Mrs. Kresh's former husband's business.

Coroner's autopsy reports indicated the cause of death was a gunshot wound in the head.

Kresh was bound over to Superior Court for arraignment Nov. 10 in Norwalk.

Recreation

Does the city of Long Beach plan to provide a recreational program for handicapped children next summer? Will the city continue to ignore the physically and mentally handicapped children of our community who are forced to vegetate during the summer months while the so-called normal children have it all? L.M., Long Beach.

"We find that most of the single golfers don't show up for their starting times," said Richard McAllister, superintendent of Long Beach's golf department. Single golfers make reservations on week days, but preference is given to parties of two or more. You must call on the day you plan to play in order to make a reservation.

Single blessedness?

Why do the municipal golf courses accept reservations only from parties of two or more on weekends? A single golfer is required to appear at the course and have his name put on the extra list. I recently waited for almost two hours before I could play. Why can't the city take reservations from single golfers and then group them together into foursomes? F.Y., Long Beach.

Visitor

I have become fascinated by a strange little white spider with black spots that has been going from blossom to blossom in my flower garden, leaving a single strand web behind. It's about the size of a raisin and has black spots on its back and sides. Can ACTION LINE find out what type of spider my visitor is? E.R., Long Beach.

Because there are a number of spiders that fit your insect-friend's description, according to an entomologist with the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. She said that if you'll take the spider to the Orange County Department of Agriculture, 1010 S. Harbor Blvd., Anaheim, one of the entomologists there can tell you what type of arachnid you have after looking at it through a microscope. The entomologist added that your garden spider "definitely is not dangerous."

It cost less to eat last month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture Department Friday reported a slight overall dip in food prices in September, the first monthly decline since last April.

The monthly "market basket" report showed slightly lower prices for beef, fresh fruits and vegetables, compared to August, but slightly more for pork, eggs and frying chickens.

'73 Dodges, Plymouths recalled

Detroit (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. Friday announced it was recalling 15,302 early production 1973 model Plymouths and Dodges because of the possibility that brake hoses on some of them might rupture and cause a loss of front braking power.

Affected models were the Plymouth Satellite and Dodge Coronet and Charger.

There is the possibility on these cars that the front brake hose may be rubbing against the car frame because of a misalignment of the brake hose mounting bracket, the company said.

U.S. economic index points to rosy future

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's index of leading economic indicators, which tend to foreshadow ups and downs in the economy, rose in September, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

The September increase of .4 per cent came on top of a .6 per cent rise in August. The August increase, revised upward since last month, was the largest monthly gain in the index in more than 10 years.

The government index is supposed to indicate future broad economic movements. It has gone up steadily since the economy began expanding last year.

President Nixon, meanwhile, said consumers are getting the best food bargains in the world and that city people often take their daily bread for granted.

"Because of the remarkable productivity of our farms and ranches," Nixon said, "the people of the United States have more and better food to eat, at lower cost, than any people in the world."

In a radio address about agriculture and how farmers have fared in his administration, Nixon said:

"When city people shop at the supermarkets or sit down to a good meal, it is easy for them to take their food for granted and to forget the men and women whose hard work and sacrifice produced it."

DESPITE the September decline, the market basket was still priced at 5.6 per cent more than a year earlier. In August, it was 4.5 per cent higher than the year earlier rate.

Retail beef prices, an important indicator in the cost of living, averaged slightly less than $1.13 per pound for all cuts in September.

That was almost 3 cents less than in August and 4.4 cents under the record peak of last July.

Pork, however, rose slightly to 86.6 cents per pound, a record high. Live hogs recently have risen to record high market prices as the result of a production cutback by farmers and consumer meat demand.

The beef price indicators also showed middle man margins—the difference between what farmers get and what consumers pay—narrowed in September, the first shrink since last June.

IN SEPTEMBER, the report said, the middleman margins for beef averaged 43.3 cents per pound, down 3.3 per cent from a record gap of 44.8 cents in August.

In September, the report said, the "farm value" of the $1,320 market basket was $539 compared with $530 in August. In July, however, farmers received $544 of the total.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, pledging a "full, fair share" of the nation's prosperity to its farmers, announced another grain sale to China Thursday of 12 million bushels of corn.

The deal, worth an estimated $18 million, was tiny compared to the Rus-sian's purchase of $1 billion worth of wheat, corn and soybeans last summer.

BUT NIXON said the two grain sales to China — the first was $25-million worth of wheat — "only scratch the surface of an immense trade potential between our two countries."

Nixon disclosed the deal, which he said was signed within the last few days, in the fifth of a series of paid political radio broadcasts and said each harvest during his four years in the White House had brought "solid progress for the farmer."

Still, he said, farmers are falling behind in personal income compared with other Americans.

"When you realize that the farmer's work week runs about double what most Americans are used to — when you realize that high risks and heavy production costs keep his profit margin paper thin — when you realize that he must often go deep into debt to maintain the $100,000 worth of capital assets required for family farming — then it is clear that farm people deserve a better reward than the average income, which today is only 80 per cent of the average for nonfarm people."

Findley said CBS had stressed "unfounded claims of scandal without mentioning the great benefits (of the deal) to farmers and all Americans."

Findley has asked CBS for equal time to reply to a series broadcasts about the $1 billion grain sale on its evening news programs.

Critics of the sale, including Democratic nominee George McGovern, have charged that administration favoritism to large grain exporters produced windfall profits for some traders and bargain basement prices for Russia at the expense of American farmers, and ultimately consumers.

Findley charged that the CBS broadcasts were "unbalanced" and full of unsupported charges, and should be rectified promptly by a balanced report.

Volvo recalls
40,000 autos

NEW YORK (UPI) — Volvo of America Corp. said Friday it is recalling about 40,000 cars equipped with fuel injection engines built between the end of 1969 and Feb. 8, 1972 to correct malfunctions in the throttle cable.

Personal health reasons

Judge delays Watergate trial to Jan. 8

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. District Court judge said Friday he has changed the starting date for the criminal trial in the Watergate bugging case from Nov. 15 to Jan. 8, 1973, because of personal health reasons.

Chief Judge John J. Sirica said he has been experiencing pains in his hip and the condition has been diagnosed as a pinched nerve.

"My physician has advised me that it will be physically impossible for me to commence the trial of a protracted case such as this on Nov. 15 with any reasonable anticipation of being able to conclude it without interruption," said Sirica.

Sirica had originally set the trial for Nov. 15 in order to begin the proceedings within 60 days of the Sept. 15 indictment, in accordance with local guidelines on protracted or sensational cases.

Seven men were indicted in connection with the break-in and alleged bugging of the Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate.

In other action, the D.C. Court of Appeals upheld a lower court ruling that Maurice H. Stans, finance chairman of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President, does not have to go to Miami to testify in the trial of Watergate defendant Bernard L. Barker.

Barker is to go on trial on Florida charges stemming from the Watergate incident.

The three-judge panel here held that there was ample evidence to support the lower court ruling that there was "absolutely no necessity" for the presence of Stans in the prosecution of the Barker case.

In Miami, a criminal court judge Friday granted a two day delay in Barker's state trial but turned down a defense motion to postpone the trial indefinitely. Barker is charged with fraudulently notarizing a $25,000 Republican campaign check.

In delaying the trial until next Wednesday, Dade County Criminal Court Judge Paul Baker said the Florida case was "getting blown out of proportion."

"This trial is not going to shake this country. This isn't the Watergate case. It's a very simple case alleging the illegal use of a notary seal," Baker said.

The judge said the two-day delay would give defense attorney Henry Rothblatt time to appeal his decision to higher state courts. Baker also said he would hear a defense motion Monday for a summary dismissal of state charges.

Earlier Friday, before Baker's ruling, U.S. District Court Judge Peter T. Fay refused to delay the trial, saying the defense had not exhausted its remedies in state courts.

Barker a 55-year-old former CIA operative, was one of five men arrested inside Democratic National Committee headquarters with the break-in and all on June 17. The other two alleged buggers were former White House aides.

Kleindienst backs penalty of death 'in 2 or 3 cases'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst said Friday he is "generally opposed" to the death penalty but favors it in "two or three instances," including "a deliberate, cold-blooded assassination of a public official."

Kleindienst told the Commonwealth Club he doesn't think there should be a penalty "unless it acts as a deterrent and it is a penalty over a long enough period of time to permit correction."

S.F. man indicted on IRA guns

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A federal grand jury issued the first indictment Friday in an investigation of alleged gun-running to the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland.

The jury indicted Charles Farrell Malone, 46, a pest control employee and chairman of San Francisco's Irish Community Defense Committee.

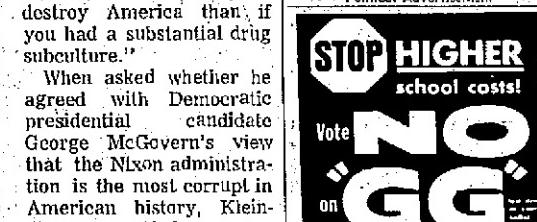

The indictment gave few details, but Malone was accused of transferring an automatic rifle last Sept. 6 without filing the proper papers with the Treasury Department.

He ALSO was accused of making a false statement in connection with the purchase of a carbine last May 19 and denying he had been previously convicted of a serious crime. The indictment said Malone was convicted of first-degree robbery May 19, 1948, in Missouri.

The grand jury heard witnesses from San Francisco and Butte, Mont. They indicated afterward they were questioned about alleged efforts to obtain arms in Montana and ship them to Ireland through San Francisco.

A gun seized from the IRA had been traced to Butte, and a shipment of guns seized en route to Ireland originated in San Francisco.

Five of the witnesses from Montana, including two policemen and the county sheriff, denied knowledge of any plot to aid the Irish rebels.

"I think you have a duty to prohibit that kind of crime," the attorney general said, referring to those who advocate free use of drugs. "I can't think of a better way to destroy America than if we had a substantial drug subculture."

When asked whether he agreed with Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern's view that the Nixon administration is the most corrupt in American history, Kleindienst responded:

"I think Sen. Mc-

ESPALIERED JAPONICA CAMELLIA

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

The general purpose of espaliering is to train fruit or other trees or shrubs to grow flat against a trellis or wall. There are several uses for espaliering shrubs. For example, they are useful in a limited space. They can be used to cover a wall with shrubs instead of a bushy planting. Espaliering means the main lateral branches are either trained to grow out horizontally, or in fan shape. The secondary branches are cut back to create the flat form.

Sometimes there's a need for temporary screening which calls for portable espaliered shrubs. The first thought is of containers with plants trained to lath lattices, also in the containers.

THE JAPONICA Camellias that have arching branches are desirable for espaliering, whether in containers or in the ground, but do best in shade or more shade than full sun. Sasanqua Camellia is even more suitable because it has willowy, arching and pliable branches. It thrives equally in full sun, partial shade or full shade. Sasanquas grow about twice as fast as the Japonica type.

Digressing briefly, there is an unusual upright Japonica camellia you should know about. It is Yuletide Camellia. It has single rich Christmas-red flowers with prominent yellow stamens. The flowers simply hate to fade away. The petals hold their color, and last, and last, and L-A-S-T much longer than any other camellias. This alone makes it desirable as a container plant for the patio during Christmas season.

Espaliering of Calliantha tweedii "Brazilian Flame Bush" makes it an ideal shrub for landscape uses. The leaves are small, feathery, and lace-like. The puff-ball stamens are brilliant crimson.

The gardener can train upright fuchsia on the north or east side of a garden or house wall. Some time ago we saw an espaliered fuchsia, then some years old, trained to supports on the north side house wall. It had an eight-foot spread and grew up to the second story windows.

BOTTLE BRUSH, Citrus, Southern Indica type azaleas and many more can be espaliered. Visit a local nursery and inquire about these and others.

Right now we'd recommend getting those winter-spring blooming annuals set out.

A planting combination of snapdragons and stocks in a sunny flower bed, with tall snaps in the back and the lower-growing stocks in the front, furnishes a wide range of bright colors as well as the darker shades. A row of pansies provides a ribbon of colors that ties the whole combination together.

Don't forget that bulbs, too, are being planted now. A top-grade Ranunculus bulb produces a plant two feet or more in size with dozens of colorful blooms.

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECASTS

New England: Heavy rain and warmer at first, then cooler by midweek but continued rain through Saturday. 3 to 5 inches of snow in mountains.

Greater New York & New Jersey: Begins warm with light rain through midweek, then gradual clearing latter part. Middle Atlantic Coastal: Begins partly cloudy and warm, then increasing cloudiness and cooler by midweek. Chance of scattered showers latter part.

Southeast Coastal-Piedmont: Clear and warm almost all week, but weekend brings light rain and cooler temperatures.

Florida: Cloudy and warm with scattered showers through midweek, then clear on Gulf Coast and partial clearing interior with intermittent showers latter part.

Upstate N.Y.: Toronto & Montreal: Clear and warm through latter part of week, then turning much colder and light rain.

Greater Ohio Valley: Generally clear and unseasonably warm most of the week. Rain and cooler latter part. Fair weekend. Deep South: Begins clear and warm, then heavy rain and cooler by Friday, through weekend.

Greater Chicago-Southern Great Lakes: Showers end quickly, then clear and warm through midweek. Light rain by Friday through weekend.

Northern Great Plains-Great Lakes: Begins cloudy and seasonably cold, with scattered showers beginning midweek. Cold in the west with snow flurries.

Central Great Plains: Partly cloudy and warm at first. Light rain and cooler by midweek through weekend. Clearing and warmer over weekend in west.

Texas-Oklahoma: Cloudy, light rain and warm through midweek, then cooler and moderately heavy rain for rest.

Rocky Mountain Region: Increasing cloudiness and very warm past midweek, with intermittent showers. Cloudy and cool latter part with light rain on weekend.

Southwest Deserts: Begins cloudy and warm, then rain and cooler by midweek. Clear and pleasant latter part, but rain on Sunday.

California: Gradual clearing and warm all week, with highs near 70 (near 80 in South).

for cut flower use as well as for garden color.

Anemones are low growing with large single or double flowers that form a pleasing combination in front of the showy Ranunculus. There are many other delightful and attractive bulbs such as daffodils, hyacinths, sparaxis, grape hyacinths, freezias, crocus Tulips.

This is the month to attack winter annual blue grass, crab grass, spurge and other small broad-leaf weeds. The gardener can do so with pre-emergent herbicides that inhibit the seeds. There are turf fertilizers that feed the dichlorides while the herbicides attack the weed seeds.

Central Great Plains: Partly cloudy and warm at first. Light rain and cooler by midweek through weekend. Clearing and warmer over weekend in west.

Texas-Oklahoma: Cloudy, light rain and warm through midweek, then cooler and moderately heavy rain for rest.

Rocky Mountain Region: Increasing cloudiness and very warm past midweek, with intermittent showers. Cloudy and cool latter part with light rain on weekend.

Southwest Deserts: Begins cloudy and warm, then rain and cooler by midweek. Clear and pleasant latter part, but rain on Sunday.

California: Gradual clearing and warm all week, with highs near 70 (near 80 in South).

Alioto suit jury again deadlocked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The second trial of Mayor Joseph Alioto's $12.5-million libel suit against the publishers of Look Magazine ended Friday with a jury declaring it could not reach agreement on a verdict.

The first trial in 1970 also ended in a hung jury. U.S. District Court Judge Russell E. Smith discharged the jury after 19 hours of deliberation when the six-man, six-woman jury reported it could not agree on the issue of malice.

The San Francisco mayor had charged that he was libeled by a Sept. 23, 1969, Look article headlined "The Web That Links San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and the Mafia."

As soon as the judge discharged the jury, Alioto's counsel, James Boccardo, moved for a third trial.

IN THE 20-day second trial, Boccardo had sought to develop in the jurors' minds a conviction that malice was involved in the magazine's 1969 publication. Boccardo suggested that the article was politically motivated to slow down the political career of Alioto who was a prospective Democratic candidate for governor of California in 1970.

The second trial took three hours less than the first for the jury to agree it couldn't agree.

The jurors reported that they had agreed that the magazine story was false and that there was a preponderance of evidence that it was defamatory. But on the third question defined by Smith, the jury reported there was no agreement that there was clear and convincing evidence that the editors and management had acted with "actual malice."

School gets bogus bills, pupils held

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — Three teen-age boys have been arrested on charges of passing bogus $5 and $10 bills in local stores and their school cafeteria, police said Friday.

Lt. Robert Seely said he expects to make at least two more arrests in the next few days, noting, "this appears to be more widespread than we thought."

Seely said the scheme involved cutting corners off $5 and $10 bills and pasting them on $1 bills. The defaced $1 bills were then exchanged at banks on the pretense that they were damaged accidentally, Seely said.

"It was a real professional job," Seely said, adding that merchants near the local high school reported the bogus bills being used for small purchases.

"They even hit the school cafeteria at busy moments," he said. "The bill wouldn't be discovered until the end of the day."

The three 15-year-old boys, arrested Thursday at their high school, were referred to the Santa Clara County juvenile probation department.

Seely said the youths told him they did not realize counterfeiting was a federal crime.

He could use the time to marry

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Police officer Michael H. Bowman, 23, has been suspended for two weeks for necking on duty.

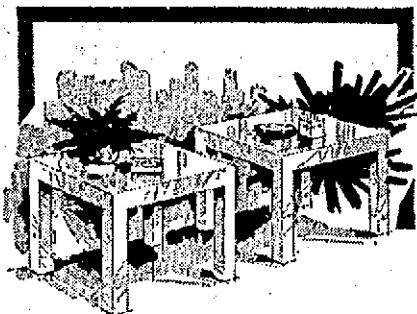

Chief Robert B. Murphy said Friday a citizen complained about the officer's conduct.

Internal affairs investigators found that Bowman indeed had been spending some of his patrol time parked in the driveway in front of his girlfriend's house romancing, according to Murphy.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Reagan Friday asked the federal government to order a halt to "false and fraudulent" campaign advertising of the state employees' pay initiative on the Nov. 7 ballot.

In an unprecedented move for Reagan, the governor called on the Federal Trade Commission to issue a "cease and desist" order against promotions of Prop. 15.

He also asked the Federal Communications Commission to "remind" California radio and television stations of their "legal obligation to screen out all broadcast materials which are false and fraudulent."

Prop. 15, sponsored by the 100,000-member California State Employees Association, would strip a governor of his veto power over state worker pay raises and establish a collective bargaining system for nonwage issues.

Walter Taylor, general manager of the association, charged Reagan with making a "grandstand play" and attempting to intimidate radio and TV stations from playing "Yes on 15" commercials.

Meantime, Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, an unannounced candidate for governor in 1974, accused Reagan of "sheer hypocrisy" in seeking a federal investigation of Prop. 15 promotions while not also calling for a probe of advertising against the coastline protection initiative, Prop. 20. Moscone noted out even having read its provisions.

They were recruited, he said as part of what he called a $2 million campaign to protect a $200-million hard-core pornography business in the state." He denied that Prop. 18 would prevent the showing of such films as "The French Connection," "Patton" or "Mash," or the distribution of such magazines as Playboy, Esquire or Cosmopolitan.

Nevertheless, he told a news conference, the film industry has contributed $300,000 and some of its best talent to the campaign to kill Prop. 18; and Playboy has contributed $50,000 or more."

"I see Prop. 18 as a precise surgical instrument to weed out the cancer of hard-core pornography," Boone said at a news conference.

"We speak as a couple of California parents," Boone said. His wife, Shirley, sat beside him.

"It is a moral and spiritual question. You've got to ask yourself, 'Is this right for me or my kids?'"

"It takes someone to say, 'This is wrong,'" he said. "There are certain things that are wrong."

Mrs. Boone said that five years ago she received pornographic material in the mail, but no case could be brought because the law was not strong enough.

"Mathematically," she said, the smut situation "can't get any better. It's got to get worse, unless we give our officials some tools," she said.

She said a teen-age daughter was recently "exposed to a picture that offended her" in a college classroom. She quoted the daughter as saying later, "Mother, I can't get it out of my mind."

Pat Boone tours for Proposition 18

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Singer Pat Boone said Friday he expects "some dramatic reversals" in favor of Prop. 18, the anti-obscenity measure, by fellow entertainers between now and the election.

On a statewide tour urging a "yes" vote on Prop. 18, Boone said he has talked to entertainers who have come out publicly against the measure without

Student-citizen group urges 'no' vote on Prop. 8

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Project Loophole Friday said Prop. 8 on the Nov. 7 ballot is an "inefficient, ineffective, and inappropriate" method of fighting pollution.

The student-citizen group which studies tax inequities urged a "no" vote on Prop. 8, which would permit the Legislature to grant property tax exemptions to industries for facilities which remove pollution.

"It would be inefficient, ineffective, and inappropriate," said Michael West, who directed the study of the measure. "It would reward industries that pollute at the expense of nonpolluting industries and other taxpayers."

In a 35-page analysis of the proposition, Project Loophole said the tax breaks would go to expensive end-of-the-line equipment installed to clean up dirty production processes and would not go for development of "cleaner" production processes which promise a long-range solution to pollution problems.

ed that Reagan, an opponent of Prop. 20, has said advertising against the coastal measure also is "misleading." He urged the governor to include such ads in "this sham-like call for a federal investigation."

Edwin Gray, press secretary to Reagan, said that the governor is "more particularly concerned about Prop. 15 because it so directly relates to his responsibilities as governor."

In a letter to Chairman Miles Kirkpatrick of the Trade Commission, Reagan ticked off a list of seven CSEA-sponsored commercials he described as making false claims. He termed the campaign as a "giant and well-financed hoax against the people."

In a separate letter to Chairman Dean Burch of the Communication Commission, the governor said California broadcast licensees "should be reminded immediately of their obligation under the fairness doctrine," which he said "requires broadcasters to give both sides of such controversial issues."

Taylor said Reagan knows that neither commission could act between now and election day and for them to do so would violate their rules for "fair and impartial proceedings."

He also denounced as "punitive" and "politically motivated" Reagan's disclosure that a private consulting agency soon will be hired by the state to find out which employee salaries are too high and too low.

He said that no "impartial" independent study "is"

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: Today's natives are serenely candid about their beliefs, tireless workers, frequently specializing in work requiring steady nerves.

Aries (March 21-April 19): You're a strong influence for putting things together. Bring friends and loved ones along as you explore hobby or sport interests.

Taurus (April 20-May 19): Make it a pleasant day at home, with due thought for possible improvements, thrifty habits, reflection on nuances of human relations.

Cancer (June 21-July 20): You have enough outstanding details to cope with, as calmly as you can, without launching any new ventures.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): New contacts promise leverage on current and future obstacles. Be willing to explore an uncharted path.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Use today's relative quiet for problem-solving, extricating yourself from connections which yield poor results.

CFCB

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Make the neighborhood rounds for a pleasant Sunday. Casual contact is enough for the moment, just enjoy making it.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Decide early just what you want to do and how. Then quietly do it.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Open yourself to inspiration, be visible and available. Social activities tend to expand, include people outside your familiar set.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Once you've done your normal share, use this quiet day for review of your progress.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your friends may be doing things you haven't tried — join them for the experience whenever your spirit is moved.

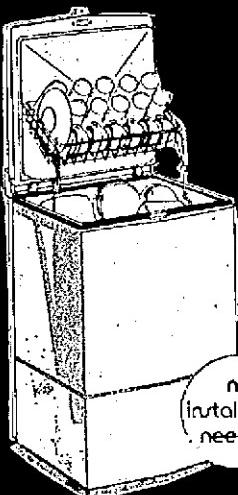

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Balance your time and energy between social expression and personal interests.

FAMOUS FOR SERVICE

TICKLED BY McGOVERN, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy folds in laughter at an L.A. building trades luncheon Friday. Sen George McGovern said he'd seen a sign reading: "Three more months for Nixon, eight more years for McGovern." But, said McGovern, "Teddy says I can have only four years, and that's all right with me."

be on hand before the cease-fire to watch it take effect, Le said the timing of its arrival after the cease-fire had already been agreed upon. The cease-fire, he said, was to start 25 hours after signing of the agreement in Paris, whereas it took seven to 11 days to effect a cease-fire after the agreement on July 20, 1964, in Geneva, and months to get an international commission on the spot.

The prerogatives, function and procedure of a "council of national reconciliation and concord": The central body, composed of Communists, neutralists and Saigon loyalists is to operate alongside the existing Saigon and Viet Cong administrations and to prepare elections.

Kissinger said there were still differences of "linguistics" as to whether this was to be purely an "administrative structure" or, in effect, a coalition government. The North Vietnamese spokesman said all details were clear.

lot of stock in world opinion," another official said. "I know how silly it would look if it broke off the talks simply because a settlement could not be signed by a particular date."

Some analysts drew encouragement from the reports from Moscow that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin had expressed optimism about the direction that the peace talks had taken.

IN OTHER Indochina developments, Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma of Laos met with Secretary of State William P. Rogers Friday morning and President Nixon in the afternoon to discuss the situation. He told newsmen that he reviewed with Rogers the current negotiations taking place in Vientiane between his government and leader of the Pathet Lao.

He stressed the need for North Vietnamese troops to withdraw from Laos — as called for in the nine point agreement. But he said he had no information on when the Paris talks would resume. He said his country's future remained in the hands of "the great powers" which he said are obliged by the 1962 Geneva accord to guarantee its neutrality.

Rogers also continued meeting with foreign ambassadors to discuss the implementation of an international commission to guarantee the Indochina agreement now under negotiation. The State Department said it would not name these countries unless, like Canada, they so identify themselves as having been consulted.

The U.S. Command said two Americans were killed and four wounded during the stepped up fighting around South Vietnam.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers captured two hamlets on French-built Highway 1 northwest of the capital early Friday and though under counterattack by government reinforcements, the attackers held their positions. The villages are 20 miles and 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and sit at the edge of the traditional communist infiltration route from Cambodian border sanctuaries.

Attacking Communists drove government infantry from a defensive position near an artillery base 12 miles north of Kontum City in the Central Highlands, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

Seven waves of U.S. B-52 bombers struck suspected Communist troop concentrations within 35 miles of Saigon during the night.

Nine formations of B-52s hit Communist troops and supplies elsewhere in South Vietnam and seven flights of Stratoforts hit supply dumps within 28 miles of the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi. One formation of B-52s of Saigon. Communist troops fought their way through militia lines to within 1,000 yards of the centers of each of the surrounding towns, military sources said.

In fighting along the east fringe of Dat Do late Friday, three Communists were killed and six government militia wounded, sources said.

Though sporadic and widespread, Communist forces carried out 124 attacks in the 24 hours ending at 3 a.m. (PDT) Friday, the most since the Tet offensive of 1968.

Attacking Communists drove government infantry from a defensive position near an artillery base 12 miles north of Kontum City in the Central Highlands, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

UPI reporter Matt Franjola said the government troops lost 27 killed, 41 wounded and 13 missing in the Thursday fighting, but a sweep of the battlefield Friday showed 55 Communists slain.

However, an estimated Communist regiment launched a ground attack on the Ngo Trang artillery base under cover of an artillery and mortar barrage, Franjola said, and fighting continued until late into the night.

compensation, phase out the enforcement of minimum wage laws and seriously undermine the construction unions."

The report, McGovern said, contemplates reducing the number of compliance officers enforcing minimum wage laws from 800 to 300 and he said it "maps an elaborate strategy to greatly expand the federal power to contract at wages far below prevailing union scales."

"Beneath their election year overalls, there is a Republican special interest suit on every single one of the Nixon men," McGovern said.

The report was written by Assistant Secretary of Labor R. J. Grunewald, McGovern said. Efforts to obtain a copy of the document from McGovern's staff were not immediately successful and there was no immediate explanation how he got the information.

Wounded brother said to be 'fair'

A Long Beach City College student wounded in a shooting for which his younger brother is being held on suspicion of attempted murder was in fair condition Friday in Harbor General Hospital.

Neurosurgeons said the victim, Donald Emil Morin, 26, of 1880 Pine Ave., probably will be released from the hospital next week. Fragments of the single shot which struck him below the right eye are still embedded in Morin's skull, doctors said.

Morin's brother, Richard, 24, who lives at the Pine Avenue address, was arrested at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Pacific Hospital, where he had taken the wounded man for treatment. Donald Morin later was transferred to Harbor General Hospital.

Agnew bids Shriver skeptical for GOP in on timing of truce

Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Standing under a sign saying "Welcome Home Mr. Vice President," Spiro T. Agnew said Friday night he is confident Maryland won't let down the national Republican ticket as it did in 1968.

Shriver also repeated his own belief that virtually the same terms outlined by North Vietnam on Thursday could have been negotiated four years ago. He said President Nixon was to blame for the duration of the war.

"There's a substantial number of people ... who are extremely skeptical about this development," Shriver said. "They're skeptical first of all because it isn't a final development, it's not certain. And secondly, they're skeptical because it has occurred at this time."

The vice president also spoke as he has in the past few days about the contrast between young people this year and in 1968.

"Great differences are evident," Agnew said.

AGNEW was making his first speech in the state since he left the governorship four years ago to run for vice president. He used most of his speech to praise Republicans running for Congress.

The vice president also spoke as he has in the past few days about the contrast between young people this year and in 1968.

"Great differences are evident," Agnew said.

Shriver told a news conference that presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger appeared to have given the impression that a peace agreement was definite, but that this might not be the case.

"Until we have assurances that the Saigon government will sign and abide by the terms, it is a little premature to say we have peace," Shriver said. "As Mr. Kissinger says, peace is near at hand. But there's a big difference in peace being near at hand and in hand. He did not say that it's in hand and he speaks very accurate English."

Shriver met with reporters after attending the New York City funeral of baseball star Jackie Robinson. He left after the news conference for a Democratic rally in nearby Jersey City, N.J.

Shriver criticized Nixon's veto of nine pieces of legislation dealing mainly with education and social service programs. He said the President's actions "reveal an attitude toward government and humanity which I find to be appalling. Because they would hurt people who are powerless in this country—the poor or minorities."

The latest vetoes, coupled with earlier ones by Nixon, indicate that the American people face "a generation of injustice" if he is re-elected, Shriver said.

SPRING AHEAD, FALL BACK

Everyone's a clockwatcher this weekend. Everyone, that is, who wants to regain that hour he lost last April when Daylight Saving Time returned. DST ends at 2 a.m. Sunday. Don't forget, when you retire tonight, turn your clock back one hour. And that applies whether the timepiece is a grandfather's clock, a Mickey Mouse or railroader's watch, etc. Those who have sundials will just have to figure things out for themselves.

LBSU suspect's death on agenda of NAACP

The Long Beach NAACP will meet Sunday to discuss the shooting death of a black burglary suspect by a city policeman.

The victim, Roland Peterson, an LBSU student, was shot Oct. 18 by Officer Dennis Vershaw. Vershaw has been suspended from the police department and the district attorney's office is investigating the incident.

Jim Swan, NAACP president, said the shooting and relations between the police department and the black community would be discussed at the 3 p.m. meeting at the California Recreation Center, 1550 California Ave.

QUEEN MARY CONVENTION

An estimated 300 delegates are expected to attend the first convention aboard the Queen Mary when the California Section of the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping meets in Long Beach Friday and Saturday.

About 125 rooms in the PSA Hotel Queen Mary have been prepared for the delegates. The hotel's formal opening, however, is scheduled between Dec. 1 and Dec. 15, the Long Beach Convention Bureau said.

Earthquakes and other problems will be discussed by speakers from various parts of the United States, including State Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, who will speak Saturday at the final luncheon.

Sen. Deukmejian will discuss current practices among persons licensed by or registered with the California Department of Consumer Affairs under new legislation.

General chairmen of the convention are Harold L. Johnson, president of the Harold L. Johnson Engineering Corp., of Covina, and Alvin C. Pond, surveying chief for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Oakland.

REPRESENTATIVES of the congress from the seven western states are expected to attend the convention. Social highlights include a cocktail party Friday in the Queen Mary Museum and a cruise of Long Beach Harbor.

Speaker at a banquet Friday evening in the Grand Salon on "R" Deck will be Roy F. Thurston, assistant director of the western region of the U.S. Geological Survey.

Saturday Robert E. Foley, of the California Department of Water Resources, will discuss dam safety.

Gordon Wattles of the Title Insurance and Trust Co. also will be on Saturday's program. His topic: earthquake problems.

plans racial counsels

By BUCK LANIER
Military Editor

The chief of U.S. naval operations Friday termed race relations the Navy's most serious problem and said all Navymen — "from me to the rawest recruit" — are going to get a 20-hour counseling course on the subject.

Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. revealed the plans for the counseling program during a "rap" session with 800 enlisted men at the Long Beach Naval Station. His comments were in response to sailors' questions about recent racial brawls aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk and the oiler Hassayampa.

ZUMWALT, who addressed a City of Long Beach Navy Day banquet in the Queen Mary's Grand Salon Friday night, said that "teams will start working their way through the entire Navy presenting the required 20-hour course in racial relations."

"They'll teach personnel to recognize areas of unrest and uncanness and enable them to deal with the problems before they flare up," the admiral said.

The "rap" session, held in the station theater, enabled Zumwalt to hear what's on sailors' minds. The sailors spoke frankly. So did the admiral. The sailors' questions and comments were considered privileged information as far as Zumwalt was concerned.

IN RESPONSE to a question about the number of civilians occupying billets that Navymen could fill for shore duty, the admiral said:

LONG BEACH-BASED SAILORS, about 800 strong, were on deck Friday for a "rap" session with Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., chief of naval operations. The topics dealt with problems of enlisted men. Among those who gave the admiral their views were, left, Electronics Technician 3.C. Steve Jobe of the USS Albert David, and Storekeeper 1.C. Worthington Brown of the Long Beach Cruiser-Destroyer Force staff.

"We hope to reduce sea time for all rates to a maximum of five years in the near future and eventually down to a 3½-year rotation."

"We are making funds available to add several hundred new shore duty billets in an effort to improve the disparity between sea duty and shore time for some ratings."

Zumwalt wouldn't comment on the prospects for peace in Vietnam, saying:

"This is higher up the ladder, and I believe you men realize this."

Zumwalt, who will spend the weekend in his hometown of Tulare before returning to Washington, has been on a busy schedule. He gave two speeches in Los Angeles Thursday, held the "rap" session Friday morning and capped off the day with the Navy Day banquet appearance.

In his speech Friday night, the admiral stressed the flexibility of seapower and the Navy's desire to create a fully balanced fleet.

"Our requests for carriers and escorts are in part based on the need for measured responses and uses of the fleet at levels below either nuclear deterrence or even an open, conventional shooting conflict," Zumwalt said.

HE STRESSED the importance of rebuilding the nation's naval forces, pointing out that the Navy will have 600 ships or less at the end of fiscal 1973 and 37 per cent fewer ships than before the Vietnam war.

"No matter how modern, one ship can only be in one place at one time. We must have a proper mix if we are to retain that ability to respond in a measured way."

Zumwalt and his wife, Mouza, were presented gifts by Mayor Edwin W. Wade.

Frank Nease, chairman of the city's Armed Services Commission, was chairman of the Navy Day

Edison's plant increase OK'd

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

The Long Beach Citizens' Advisory Environmental Committee has voted 7-1 to support the Southern California Edison Co. application to modernize and expand its generating plant on Terminal Island, Chairman Robert F. Rooney announced Friday.

Dr. Rooney said the committee vote followed a three-week study of the Edison proposal for a $92-million improvement of the plant, which will boost its capacity from 148 to 585 megawatts.

"We recognize the increasing need for power and the obligation of Southern California Edison Co., as a public utility, to supply it," the advisory committee's motion said.

It said the committee recognizes the danger of increased air pollution by any energy source, but added that "the change in the machinery will decrease the contributions of this plant to the total air pollution in the area."

"AS A CONSEQUENCE of these considerations, we look with favor upon the combined cycle power plant," as proposed," the motion said.

Voting against the proposal was Patrick O'Leary, who is a member of the Long Beach Tuberculosis and Health Assn., which has opposed the project.

The State Public Utilities Commission will begin hearings on the proposal Tuesday, in the Veterans Memorial Building, Broadway and Cedar Avenue.

Rooney said a subcommittee consisting of Chairman Paul McKenzie, Dorothy Wise and O'Leary studied the environmental impact report of Edison Co. on the proposal, and also talked with the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. George Hanaway, district manager of Edison Co., also met with the full committee, Rooney said.

After hearing the subcommittee report, the advisory committee first considered a motion by member Barney Ridder Jr. to support the application. At the suggestion of Dr. Robert Wylder, however, the motion was expanded to include the explanatory statements on the committee stand.

Hospital plans

Explorer post

An Explorer post for students aged 15 to 21 who are interested in either medical or paramedical fields will be established at Long Beach Community Hospital.

The announcement was made Friday by Bruce R. Sanderson, the hospital's executive director. Similar posts have been established at St. Mary's and Memorial hospitals.

Sanderson said a kickoff meeting will be held at the hospital auditorium Nov. 16. He said further information is available from the hospital.

Paint gear stolen

Paint spraying equipment valued at $150 was taken from a truck belonging to Quality Interiors of West Covina while it was parked in front of 690 Burnett Ave. in Long Beach, police reported Friday.

Increase in engineering job openings seen by expert

By ROBERT BECKMAN

Business-Financial Editor

The job market for new engineers has turned the corner, judging by employment figures and demand for recent graduates from UCLA and other universities across the country.

During the 1971-72 school year, the UCLA Engineering and Science Placement and Career Center recorded a 25 per cent increase in engineering job openings over the preceding year, according to Mrs. Steinun Kroman, director.

Starting salaries were up, too, ranking well at the top among U.S. engineering graduates. Nationwide statistics on salaries for all new college grads put engineering in the No. 1 spot.

A survey of UCLA's 1971-72 engineering graduates taken in early July gave a median starting salary of $10,560 for new Bachelor degree holders, $13,000 for those with a Master's degree, and $18,000 for New Ph.D.s.

Job opportunities went up with the degree level. According to the summer survey, 80 per cent of Bachelors had found jobs, were entering graduate school, or going into military service. The comparative figure for Masters was 88 per cent, and for Ph.D.s 91.4 per cent.

Another encouraging fact, says Mrs. Kroman, was that the overwhelming majority of UCLA engineering graduates found jobs commensurate with their education and skills, contrary to popular reports on the "under-utilization" of new engineers.

Asked whether they were using their education on the job, 90 per cent of the employed Bachelor graduates said yes, as did 99 per cent of the Masters and 100 per cent of the Ph.D.s.

"I don't want to give the impression that we're back to the mid-Sixties, when new engineering graduates simply had to sit back and sort out the job offers," says Mrs. Kroman. "Many 1971-72 graduates had to show initiative and persistence to get their jobs, but in general their efforts paid off."

One exception to the general upswing was the graduate holding foreign citizenship. Although non-U.S. citizens represented only about one-tenth of the total sample, they accounted for almost 45 per cent of those who had not yet found jobs at the time of the survey.

The new UCLA engineers as a whole tended to stick close to home. Nearly 80 per cent found work in

Most of them do not think the recent hike by banks in the prime rate to 5½ per cent heralds a dramatic surge in interest rates.

Typical of their comments is the view of Harold Fieldsteel, treasurer of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, who says, "Credit will become a more significant problem next year, but I doubt if it will approach the squeeze of a few years ago."

"I don't think a credit crunch is going to be there," says Herbert Deitcher, assistant treasurer for operations of Raytheon Co. "We will see an increase in interest rates, but I don't think there will be a shortage of available money."

In fact, A. Lee Munson, vice president and treasurer of Fairchild Camera & Instrument Corp., declares that the rise in interest rates is a good sign. They are rising because "optimism is coming back," he asserts. "Higher rates can be a favorable barometer for the economy."

The general consensus among corporate finance men is that short-term rates will continue to rise. A. William Capone, treasurer of Pittsburgh's Koppers Co., predicts a full point jump over present levels. Raytheon's Deitcher sees a one-half to three-quarters of a percentage point gain. Others think the short-term rates will stabilize after an initial surge.

As for long-term rates, there is a sharp difference of opinion. "All our advice is that bond rates will go up," says Robert W. Hartwell, chief financial officer of Detroit Edison Co. But Guy M. Cleborne, treasurer of Allegheny Ludlum Industries in Pittsburgh, thinks they will be "either the same or perhaps slightly lower" next year.

"We don't expect a credit crunch like we had in '66 and '69, and I can't say just why," says Joseph W. McLeary, senior vice-president for finance at Memphis-based Cook Industries. Among the reasons for the persistence of such optimistic views is that many executives think it is still very much a borrower's market.

"Right now the banks are out looking for loans," says Randal Reed, vice president for financial administration at Atlantic Richfield Co.

And other corporate financiers feel they are in good shape.

Industries shove for No. 1 ranking

By JOHN CUNNIF

AP Analyst

NEW YORK — It seems that the advantages of being No. 1 in the industrial world clearly outweigh the drawbacks. Otherwise, why the battles and claims and charges? And when the spot is lost, why the desperate fight to regain it?

Whether the position is desired because of the assumption that the biggest is also the best and thus should deserve the customer's order or whether it is mainly a matter of pride is debatable. But big appears to be beautiful.

U.S. Steel certainly treasures the label that so often identifies it as "the nation's No. 1 steel producer," and you may be sure heads would roll if the tag were lost to Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer.

In the vehicle-rental business, Hertz is still in the lead and racing hard to stay there. But Avis, fusing in second place with about 110,000 vehicles to Hertz's 155,000, has been saying lately that it will be No. 1. When it doesn't say

IN THE opinion of the Justice Department, and many other critics as well, big is often bad. International Business Machines, which in some years has had as much as 70 per cent of the electronic computer industry, learned this.

Government lawyers announced their intention of breaking IBM into a number of separate companies, the intent being to promote price and product competition. IBM will fight back, of course, and with an intriguing argument.

The big computer maker, while conceding the obvious, that it is No. 1, is expected to argue that it isn't so solidly entrenched there as to monopolize the industry. We're No. 1, they are prepared to say, but not so No. 1-ish as we were.

It claims that its own census of the industry shows its share of various market segments dropped to between 38 and 57 per cent in 1970 from 70 per cent in 1952.

Exhibition at sporting goods open

The National Sporting Goods Association (NSGA) opened its Silver Anniversary Fall Market Friday at the Anaheim Convention Center.

The trade show will run through Sunday.

A record number of sporting goods exhibitors and buyers are expected to attend the 25th annual show featuring the largest exhibition of sporting goods, camping gear, and physical fitness equipment in the West.

Over 8,000 people are expected to attend during the three-day event.

This year's show features over 490 major firms exhibiting more than 600 individual sporting goods lines to wholesalers and retailers.

The show is open only to accredited exhibitors, buyers and industry guests.

Permit okayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal Power Commission hearing examiner has recommended that Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co. be permitted to build $20 million worth of new facilities in Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama.

INDUSTRY WEEK

Cash registers to ring

Cash registers around the country will ring out a merry tune this Christmas shopping season.

Industry Week said this week manufacturers of a wide range of consumer items see demand up anywhere from 3 to 14 per cent from last year's rate, and retail chains expect business to be "better" to "very strong."

Retail sales through September ran nearly 10 per cent ahead of the same period last year. At that rate, sales in the peak Christmas sales month of December could top $46 billion — around 10 per cent ahead of last December's total.

With sales already up this year for most producers, the holiday spurt is expected to provide momentum for further gains in 1973.

The clock and watch business is already strong, and Christmas shoppers are expected to clean such merchandise out of jewelry stores and make it necessary for jewelers to restock their shelves in January for strong business that is expected to carry over into spring.

A luggage manufacturer reports yule business is running far ahead of last year's and anticipates its business will continue strong into the new year.

TOY MANUFACTURERS are expecting a "considerably improved" Christmas season this year that should ensure that their shipments to retailers will be up for all of 1972.

In many market areas, holiday inventories are being built enthusiastically. For example, wholesalers and distributors placed orders earlier than usual this year because the annual Hardware Show was held in the summer instead of late October.

A producer of indoor power tools expects a 15 per cent increase in orders. Already, its display fixture kits are "sold out." Christmas promotion and exposure are expected to help carry sales momentum of new products into the new year.

A mixed trend in stocking is developing, however.

Some retailers have delayed building inventories in hopes of better judging consumer intentions.

FOR EXAMPLE, a large chain of department stores had done less stocking as of early October than in prior years. "Our strategy is to buy closer to the season," a vice president of the chain told the magazine.

He expects such business machines as minicomputers to be big this year, along with such traditional favorites as cosmetic gift sets, certain jewelry items, and men's furnishings.

Helping boost the holiday buying this year will be two extra sales days between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day.

Some consumer goods don't have a holiday peak, and in others the trend is changing, Industry Week pointed out.

In the portable home appliance field, for example, the former Christmas sales bulge is flattening out. Twelve years ago, 40 per cent of consumer sales of rippers, mixers, and toasters came in the fourth quarter versus 20 per cent for the first quarter.

By 1970, January-March volume had risen 10 per cent compared with a corresponding 10 per cent decline for October-December.

Carson Mall in erection

Construction has begun on the first regional shopping complex in the greater Los Angeles Harbor area, the $30 million Carson Mall located adjacent to the San Diego Freeway at Del Amo and Avalon boulevards.

Containing more than 950,000 square feet of structures, the center will offer the seven-city harbor area a total of 87 separate stores and shops — including Sears, J.C. Penney, and The Broadway department stores — when it opens in the fall of 1973.

Carson Mall development is being handled by Coldwell, Banker Management Corporation, Los Angeles, for the owner Continental Illinois Properties, a Los Angeles-based real estate investment trust managed by Continental Illinois Properties Advisors, Inc.

Coldwell's parent organization, Coldwell, Banker & Co., is exclusive leasing agency.

B of A branch in H. B. in modernization

Construction is under way on a major expansion and modernization of the Brookhurst-Adams Bank of America in Huntington Beach, announces manager Thomas A. Miles.

The $115,000 project calls for the construction of 1,250-square-foot addition to the rear of the building, increasing the overall office size to 9,000 square feet. This will allow the expansion of all facilities and the installation of a new escrow section and conference room.

In addition, another walk-up deposit window will be added to the exterior of the office and all new fixtures, furniture, wall coverings, carpeting and draperies will be installed.

Contractor for the project, scheduled for completion in early spring, is CBS Construction of Santa Ana.

The office was built and opened in 1965.

P & G earnings in climb

Procter & Gamble has announced quarterly earnings and sales for the three months ended Sept. 30, 1972.

Net earnings for the July-September period — the first quarter of P&G's fiscal year — amounted to $91,628,000, an increase of 10 per cent over net earnings of $83,271,000 for the corresponding three months a year ago.

Earnings per share, based on an average 81,947,895 shares outstanding for the period, were $1.12, compared with $1.02 for the same period last year.

Worldwide net sales for the three months were $975,197,000, an increase of eight per cent over sales of $904,694,000 for the similar period in 1971.

Provision of $76,619,000 was made for federal and foreign income taxes for the current period.

Procter & Gamble had sales in excess of $3.5 billion during fiscal 1971-72. The company markets a wide range of household products, including soaps and detergents, toilet goods, food products and paper products. It also produces a variety of products for business and industry.

Withdrew over doctrinal purity in 36

L.B.'s Orthodox Presbyterians —just what is the difference?

By LES RODNEY

One of the striking new looks in United Presbyterian churches has been the election of young women as elders—members of the ruling session.

You won't find young women elders at Long Beach First Orthodox Presbyterian Church. Or middle-aged or older women either, for that matter.

"We don't allow women to serve on the session, preach in the pulpit, or act as deacon," said the pastor, Rev. Wilson H. Rinker, in a chat at the handsome church on San Antonio Drive off Atlantic. He added: "We do have a dozen deacons."

What is the "Orthodox" Presbyterian Church? It is, Rinker explains, a group of ministers and laymen who withdrew in 1936 from what was then the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. because they considered that the organization had "denied certain crucial basic biblical doctrines, the primary one being the infallibility of the Word of God."

IN FAIRNESS, it should be pointed out that Rinker

REV. RINKER
Need New Methods

offered this characterization only in reply to the reporter's questions. He'd rather just talk about his own church. "I'd like to make this statement," he said. "I do not believe I should build up my position on the basis of my ability to criticize others, but rather by stating positively where I stand."

However, since a newspaperman has to be interested in the historical and theological differences between those who withdrew and those who didn't, Rev. Rinker's preference couldn't be honored this day.

He listed as distinguishing features of the Orthodox denomination: the traditional five points of Calvinism. These are: 1. The total depravity of man; 2. Unconditional election (predestination, God elects some and not others, and this cannot be changed); 3. Limited atonement (Christ died not for the sins of every person but for the sins of those who were elected); 4. Irresistible grace (man has no choice, cannot resist the call of God if called); 5. Perseverance of the saints (the meaning of which remains murky to the writer). Rev. Rinker said he preferred to put it "the perseverance of God with the saints."

This is no longer the creed of the United Presbyterian Church, the minister says.

THE ORTHODOX sect has not grown significantly in the years since the splitoff, and now numbers some 14,000 members nationally. This fact, while not desirable, is not considered crucial by Christians who split away from large church bodies on the issue of doctrinal purity, as they see it. The feeling usually is that if they are the ones who are right, they will be finally proven to be the bearers of the orthodox

Garden Grove, Manhattan Beach, La Mirada, Hacienda Heights, East Los Angeles and Eagle Rock. There are five in the San Diego area, one at Goliad, and 11 in Northern California.

Question to Rinker: Why has the OPC remained numerically insignificant in these 35 years since its formation?

Answer: "It is possible to be doctrinally correct but methodologically weak. We have maintained virtually a seminary, but have not put our people into the field."

WESTMINSTER Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, he says, "is now adjusting to this, working on offering a doctorate of ministry, a degree in practical fields, to have graduates know what it is like to visit a jail, a mental institution, to talk to people in the street."

With the youthful associate minister, Rev. Edward L. Voltz, the pastor is launching a new church program which is, in essence, the daydream of every pastor—meeting with all members, determining mutually what each can do best, and ultimately involving every person in at least some phase of a community outreach program.

Rev. Rinker does want to make clear that in speaking of methodological weaknesses in the denomination, he does not mean to detract from "the hard and fruitful work of the men of '36, the founders." But now, he says, "we must move with the times. Our principles never change, but our methods must."

Question: Why evangelize if it is all already settled who is elect and who is not elect, if those elected cannot refuse, and those not elected cannot change their fate? And why would anyone WANT to respond, "embrace Christ, and lead a better, more Christian life if it couldn't affect his eternal destiny anyhow?"

Reply: "We don't know who is or isn't elect. They need to hear the Word and to respond. We are used to bring the message. But only God knows, it is all His plan, like an architect with completed blueprints, to which we are not privy." As a community minister, he added, he naturally wants all people to lead a Christian life and the church is prepared to help all.

IN ANSWER to a related question, the pastor said Orthodox Presbyterians do not proselytize United Presbyterian churchgoers. "They know we exist," he said with a smile.

Orthodox Presbyterians, Rinker says, are as one with other fundamentalist Protestants in holding the Bible to be the infallible Word of God. "The very fact that it is in the Bible is good enough," he says, "for He put it there."

He then takes the entire Bible literally?

"You mean do I believe that God created the world in seven literal days? Yes."

As to the attraction of First Church to a fairly representative contingent of youth members:

"Family training is one answer. We believe in the covenant with Jesus Christ, this family idea is carried down into each family. We encourage family devotion, do not permit breaking up."

In spite of women's lib, and its impact on church life, he foresees no change in the rule that women cannot serve as elders, let alone take the pulpit.

"Paul is our authority," he says simply. "He said permit no woman to teach in the church, and reminded that the male was created first, and the woman second, to give the male proper help."

PASTOR RINKER, 52, lives in Long Beach with his wife Dora and three sons, the oldest of whom is in the Coast Guard. He attended State Teacher

College in East Stroudsburg, Pa., and Western Theological Seminary in Holland, Mich. and served in the Pacific during World War II. His own background was in the Reformed Church, the Dutch wing of the Reformed Protestant movement.

The Orthodox Presbyterians, he advises, are holding exploratory conversations with the Christian Reformed Church, which broke away from the Reformed Church in America.

"That," he says, "is what our new church program is about. We're wondering what the future of the church will be in 25 years. Will we be here then? on this corner? Will we have spiritual significance? In light of the tremendous changes in the world, are we going to be able to cope? From a scriptural point of view? We are not prepared, and we must be."

Confident living Positive thinking can change lives

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It is absolutely amazing the wonderful things that can happen to people who keep their mental attitudes in good condition, whose minds are healthy, wholesome and normal. One of the greatest of all values is a sound mind. It makes all the difference between success and failure, between happiness and misery, between effectiveness and uselessness.

"But," you may say, "there are certain facts that have shaped my life and things will never change no matter how I think." That just isn't so. Sure, your situation may be difficult, but the quality of your experience and what happens to you is determined by your attitude toward the facts you now face.

I RECENTLY received a letter from a man who has spent 18 of the past 21 years in prison. Everyone wrote him off as a complete and absolute failure. But look at what happened to change the picture. I quote him exactly the way he writes:

"I am still a young man, but most of my life has been spent in jails, reform schools and prisons. I am now on my fifth trip to the state prison. It was while waiting to come back to prison this time that I finally opened my eyes to the truth of what life is really about. I started thinking God's way. Ever since that day I have been on the right road. That was a year ago, and the feeling that I got that day, that God is looking out for me and is with me every minute of the day and night, has not left me. My whole way of thinking has changed and as a result I have changed.

"I am, of course, still in this man-made prison, but I am no longer in the prison of my own making, which was made by my unhealthy thinking. I might put it this way, I was not paroled from this personal prison, but rather God discharged me from it and I will never go back into it again, nor will I ever go back into any man-made prison when I am discharged on August 14, 1972."

This is but a sample of the thousands of letters I've received from people who have changed their lives through positive thinking. The great fact always to remember is that the world in which we live isn't made by outward conditions nearly as much as it is determined by what goes on in the mind. We shape our lives by how we think.

A hitherto indifferent surprised himself and everyone else when he became top man in his class. "Top man!" he said to himself unbelievably. "What am I doing up here? I shouldn't be top man; actually I should be low man. Something sure is wrong. This just isn't right."

THIS NEGATIVE kind of talk put doubt into his mind and then fear puts Despite pessimistic reports that Church Union has reached the "high-water-mark" and is fast receding as a critical issue and goal in Christendom, the Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church does not believe the facts support this position.

"People cannot become enthusiastic about Church Union just by reading about it," the Episcopal leader said. "It is like dancing — you learn by doing it — by engagement — by involvement."

Edith and Archie meet the 'Swingers'

By BOB MARTIN
TV-Radio Editor

Edith and Archie Bunker as "swingers"? Say it isn't so.

OK, consider it said. But tonight's episode of "All in the Family" does revolve around swinging, which in some circles is another word for mate-swapping.

The Bunkers get involved in the thing innocently enough. Edith finds a copy of a magazine in the subway and decides to answer an ad in the swap section. She thinks the "mature, lonely couple" is looking for pen pals or new friends.

When the fun-loving, well-dressed couple drops by the Bunker home for a "visit," the fun begins.

Archie isn't happy about having strangers in his home on general principles, but when they give him a box of good cigars he decides they can't be all bad. It turns out the man and his wife don't drink or smoke and Archie wonders out loud what they do for fun. He finds out.

Sounds as though the program should be good for a lot of laughs. Not that "All in the Family" needs any plugs to draw a big viewing audience. It's No. 1 in the latest ratings.

EVER WONDER which network attracts the most viewers on a particular night of the week?

From the start of the new season (Sept. 11) through the week ending Oct. 15, NBC dominated Monday night's ratings; ABC was the leader on Tuesday; CBS led on Wednesday; NBC was the winner on Thursday; CBS led on Friday and Saturday and ABC held the advantage on Sunday.

The only night that NBC hasn't won at least once in the five-week period is Tuesday, which is hurt, as far as ratings go, by its News Specials from 10 to 11 p.m.

ABC has yet to win a Monday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday night, whereas CBS has been shut out of nightly victories on Thursday and Sunday.

A baseball miracle laid to rest

NEW YORK (AP) — The plain and the poor joined national celebrities in paying final respects to Jackie Robinson Friday and saw him laid to rest in his beloved Brooklyn where as a Dodger he cracked the crusty facade of bigotry in baseball.

Robin Wilson, 15, of Passaic, N.J. cried. "I loved him—I never saw him," the schoolgirl said between sobs. "But my father told me all he did for us black people."

Robin was part of an overflow crowd of more than 2,500 mourners at the majestic Riverside Church, whose towering spire casts a shadow on Grant's Tomb, a block away.

Jackie would have been proud. Even in death, he played to a full house. "He belongs to the ages," intoned Dr. Jesse Jackson of Chicago, founder and president of PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) who delivered a moving 40-minute eulogy.

"He didn't integrate baseball for himself. He infiltrated baseball for all of us. He wrote the miracle of the diamond and proved to be the hope and the jewel of the people."

"Hallelujah!" shouted a voice from the back of the church.

"Hallelujah! Hallelujah! Hallelujah!" came resounding echoes that bounded off the walls and the sky-reaching dome of the gothic edifice.

In the aisle, Roy Campanella, the Hall of Fame catcher of the Dodgers, sitting in a wheelchair, closed Jordan, Millikan win!

Wilson's coach is ejected

Panthers defeat Bruins by 29-20

By GARY ELLIS
Staff Writer

"North Town is coming unglued."

Dave Radford, coach of Jordan High, spoke of his community where football and losing were synonymous until Friday night when his Panthers, behind a ball-control offense led by Randy James and a defense nicknamed "The Brotherhood," whipped Wilson, 29-20.

Wilson's coach, Owen Dixon, was banished from the game with 5:04 remaining in the second quarter. The booster club president was slapped with a 15-yard penalty and Dixon received 30 yards. Jordan kicked off from the Wilson seven-yard line following the series of penalties.

Wilson was also hit by injuries, losing three players — two, Richard Hillier and Kevin Warner, in the first three periods.

"We moved the football early," said Radford, celebrating his first Moore League win and the school's first over Wilson in nine years. "We played a balanced offense based on technique. I knew we could play this kind of game."

James, the defensive leader was superb at quarterback. The 5-11, 175-pound senior passed for 129 yards (9-of-14) and ran for 76 more, including one touchdown. The offense, led by the hard running of fullback Roy Walker and wide receiver Dan Cottrell, ripped the Wilson defense for 367 yards, 261 on the ground.

While the offense was playing near-perfect, the Panther defense came up with the big plays. The Brotherhood twice stopped Wilson two-point extra-point attempts and held a usually tough Bruin running attack to 73 yards.

All-city running back Robin Holm did not see action but quarterback Craig Johnson made things hot for the Panthers all night. The senior quarterback completed 15 of 31 passes for 241 yards and one touchdown, a 73-yard bomb to John Green. Johnson also set up two short TD plunges by Dean Olson.

Olson opened the scoring with a two-yard run for the Bruins but Jordan, behind the running and passing of James, scored with Randy going over from the five. With 5:04 left in the second quarter, Bobby Simien scored from one-yard out, the play which Dixon disputed, to move Jordan into a 16-8 halftime lead.

Johnson passed the Bruins down to the Jordan one late in the third quarter setting up Olson's second TD. A two-point run was stopped short.

Then Jordan, midway through the third quarter, scored when Cottrell scampered 30 yards. A

Compton buried by Rams, 56-8

By KEN PIVERNETZ
Staff Writer

Followers of Millikan High, fearful that the Rams might let down after last week's first-ever victory over Wilson, need not have worried Friday night.

The Rams went on their biggest offensive output in the school's history, overwhelming Compton, 56-8, with a Wishbone offense that accounted for 503 yards in 48 minutes.

It was Millikan's second Moore League victory in as many weeks and left the Rams atop the standings at 2-0, their best start yet.

The victory came against a Compton team that had won four of its first five games with one tie and had last week scored 43 points against Polk.

Friday, the Tarbabs never did get untracked.

Millikan started slowly enough, leading only 7-0 after the first quarter, then scored four of the five times it handled the ball the next 12 minutes and left the field at intermission ahead 35-8.

Passing just often enough to keep the defense honest, quarterback Steve Fenoglio directed the four-star production behind a Ram front line that parted big holes all evening.

Although Fenoglio gained 112 yards on only three carries and threw two touchdown passes, his ball handling and timing are the primary reasons the Rams have suddenly begun to run the Wishbone so well.

Of the 503 yards, 412 came on the ground. Eleven backs in all had a chance to carry the ball, none of which was No. 1 rusher Brad Liebeck who was held out of the game after turning an ankle in practice this week.

Fenoglio, with his team on top 14-0, broke the game open four minutes into the second quarter when he faked a handoff into the middle of the line, then rolled out and rammed 70 yards for a touchdown.

The Tarbabs were so shaken that they turned the ball over on their first play after the kickoff when Bill Fraser came up with the first of his two interceptions on the Compton 26.

A holding penalty set the drive back to the 41, but Rick Rasmussen then came on to direct a six-

Lakers ready for win streak? Warriors repeat 119-91 romp

By DOUG IVES

History repeated itself at the Forum Friday night as the Lakers earned themselves a chorus of boos by falling helplessly to the Golden State Warriors, 119-91.

One year ago the Lakers took a similar pratfall against their upstate rivals in the ninth game of the season, then began their historic 33-game winning streak.

But it must be recalled that last year's streak started with Jerry West's return to the lineup and Jim McMillian's insertion as a starting forward.

No changes like those are possible this year. The clear fact is that the Warriors are far real and capable of challenging the Lakers for the Pacific Division and NBA titles.

Rick Barry has given the northerners that little extra drive, but frankly, it has been a revitalized defense which has made the Warriors title contenders.

This was their sixth consecutive game of holding their opponent under 100 points. That's impressive.

Many times last year the Lakers pulled out victories on the defensive heroics of Wilt Chamberlain. But Chamberlain doesn't loom as mighty when matched against Nate Thurmond.

Thurmond nullified Chamberlain Friday night and all the rest of the Warriors simply outran, outlasted, outdefended and outshot the entire Lakers squad.

Coach Bill Sharman put it succinctly when he said, "Never have we broken down in so many vital departments."

Jeff Mullins (28 points) and Cazzie Russell (26) gave the Warriors most of their firepower, and some of their shots came under heavy defensive pressure.

BARRY, not the scoring demon he was five years ago, sank 17 points by taking only the good percentage shot.

"My role has changed," said the one-time NBA scoring champion. "I'm not worried if I don't score 30. We have plenty of punch on this team, and it's my job to play defense and help. Nate on the boards."

Atlanta public relations director Wilt Browning had a different story.

"Norm weighs a player only on merit," he said.

"Taylor is disgruntled because he was a very fine college player and hasn't been able to make it in the pros.

This is very common."

BARRY, 28, is shooting a poor 36 per cent through six games, but he was proud of Friday's effort.

"That's the best I've had this season," said Barry. "I have been very inconsistent."

It took 54 per cent shooting for the Warriors to run their record to 4-2, tying the Lakers for first place.

Russell and Mullins were the marksmen, hitting 24 of 43 shots.

The Lakers, meanwhile,

Dutchman 'racist,' charges Taylor

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Former University of Michigan all-American Billy Taylor said Thursday he was disillusioned with general manager-coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Atlanta Falcons.

"He's a racist," Taylor said. "Speaking for my race, Van Brocklin is setting us back 100 years."

"With Van Brocklin, you're the slave, he's the master. I talked with black veterans who've been around and this is also how they feel. Everything is 'yes sir,' and 'no sir.' The racial tones are so obvious, it's hard to believe people stand for it."

Taylor was the Falcons' fifth draft choice this year, but after tryouts with Atlanta and St. Louis, he is at California, Alta., playing fullback in the Canadian Football League.

couldn't buy a basket. West was 3 for 19, missing 13 out of 14 from the outside. Jim McMillian was 6 for 19, extending his shooting slump to three games.

"I hope that's the worst game we'll play all year," said Sharman, who wasn't as angry as he was one year ago.

But his concern was obvious.

"We've played four quality teams and lost badly to Big holes all evening.

Although Fenoglio gained 112 yards on only three carries and threw two touchdown passes, his ball handling and timing are the primary reasons the Rams have suddenly begun to run the Wishbone so well.

Of the 503 yards, 412 came on the ground. Eleven backs in all had a chance to carry the ball, none of which was No. 1 rusher Brad Liebeck who was held out of the game after turning an ankle in practice this week.

Fenoglio, with his team on top 14-0, broke the game open four minutes into the second quarter when he faked a handoff into the middle of the line, then rolled out and rammed 70 yards for a touchdown.

The Tarbabs were so shaken that they turned the ball over on their first play after the kickoff when Bill Fraser came up with the first of his two interceptions on the Compton 26.

The Tarbabs never did get untracked.

Millikan started slowly enough, leading only 7-0 after the first quarter, then scored four of the five times it handled the ball the next 12 minutes and left the field at intermission ahead 35-8.

The victory came against a Compton team that had won four of its first five games with one tie and had last week scored 43 points against Polk.

Hare this! Poly whips Lancers, 20-12, ends eight-year drought

Contrary to the desires of Lakewood High football fans, there was no rabbit stew cooking at Veterans Stadium Friday night.

Instead, the Jackrabbits of Poly combined an erratic but sufficient offense with a defense that allowed Lakewood only 53 yards rushing to hand the Lancers a convincing 20-12 defeat before nearly 9,000 onlookers.

The victory — the first in eight years by Poly over Lakewood — leaves each with a 1-1 Moore League record.

Chief engineers for the homecoming — celebrating

Rabbits were quarterback Anthony Hill and halfback Roy Haggerty. Hill completed an accurate 11 of 14 passes for 149 yards, while the swift Haggerty came out of the backfield to score all three Poly touchowns on catches of 33, eight and 40 yards.

Lakewood had more first downs (20-11) and more offensive plays (71-49), but was repeatedly frustrated in its attempts to score by a persistent hare defense that stopped Lancer ball carriers 13 times behind the line of scrimmage for minus-53 yards.

Not only that, but the Lancers went scoreless in the first half as usually deadly kicker Paul Gorham missed two field goals the end zone to complete Tereschuk habitually overthrew his receivers.

Poly defenders, most notably center Dava Hinton and guard Warren Earushaw, sacked Tereschuk seven times for minus-63 yards.

Dallas puzzle: Who can spur the Cowboys?

Compiled from I.P.T. sources

Oh, dear, Tom Landry's in a quarterback quandary again.

The Dallas Cowboys' coach was given another decision to make this week — whether to start Craig Morton or Roger Staubach against the Detroit Lions in next Monday night's TV game at Irving, Tex.

Staubach was the Cowboy QB from the time he carried the club from a 4-3 record to 10 consecutive wins through the Super Bowl until he ran into Ram linebacker Marlin McKeever at the Coliseum last Aug. 12, separating his right shoulder.

Morton became the QB that night and still was when the Cowboys dropped last Sunday's showdown to the Redskins, 24-20, falling into second place in the NFC East.

Now Roger is well, and Landry is on the spot.

"I thought Morton threw well," Landry said last week, "but he had two big interceptions at the end where the game is won or lost. Roger still has a long way to go to regain his timing."

Landry had said earlier, "If we're winning when

INSIDE THE NFL

Roger comes back, we may still go with Morton. Staubach will have to win his job back."

Unless, of course, Craig loses it.

One point — the Cowboys' pass receivers prefer to work with Morton, a hang-in-the-pocket guy.

"When Craig calls 'pass,'" says Lance Alworth, "it'll be thrown 95 per cent of the time. With Roger, you have to be ready to either help block or start scrambling yourself. If things look crowded, he'll take off. Craig will sit back and read the defense."

Staubach says, "I will run if it will help the team ... but the more experience a quarterback has the less he is apt to run at the first sign of trouble."

Clearly, this is where Roger came in.

CLICHES OF THE WEEK, or any week . . .

Charger coach Harland Svare: "We're continuing to beat ourselves. I know we're a better football team, but we just haven't jelled. We can't get it together."

Redskins coach George Allen: "We showed character to come from behind."

New Colts coach John Sandusky, a 24-20 loser to the Jets: "Close counts only in horseshoes." (Ouch!)

Chief coach Hank Stram, a 21-20 loser to the Eagles: "I keep saying that anybody can win in this league."

PLAYING THE ANGLES . . .

Charger QB John Hadl had passed only 11 times, completing three, until the Chargers were down 34-6

Nebraska, Okl. St. vie for lead

Oklahoma State has the momentum and Nebraska has the momentum for their college football struggle today that will decide the front-runner in the Big Eight Conference.

"We appreciate the chance to play a team like Nebraska," says Oklahoma State coach Dave Smith, whose Cowboys are currently tied for first with the third-ranked Cornhuskers.

But although Smith is "sincerely looking forward to the game," Oklahoma State will face a Nebraska team that has won five games in a row since its surprising opening-day loss to UCLA.

"Momentum is the name of the game and they have it," said Smith.

Both teams have 2-0 league marks but several other clubs in that skintight race have a chance to move into contention because of key games today.

Seventh-ranked Colorado (3-1 in the Big Eight) visits Missouri (0-2) and No. 8 Oklahoma (0-1) hosts Kansas State (1-2) in two other games involving nationally-ranked teams.

In other games involving the Top Ten, top-ranked USC visits Oregon; Southern Mississippi plays at No. 2 Alabama in a night game; fourth-ranked Ohio State meets Wisconsin; fifth-rated Michigan hosts Minnesota; Washington State takes on No. 9 UCLA and Rice entertains 10th-ranked Texas. Sixth-ranked Louisiana State is idle.

In the television game today, No. 16 Arizona State hosts Air Force (Channel 7, 1 p.m.).

Elsewhere among Second Ten teams, No. 11 Penn State is at West Virginia, No. 17 Florida State, at No. 12 Auburn, Texas Christian is at No. 13 Notre Dame, Hawaii is at No. 14 Tennessee and No. 15 Iowa State is at Kansas.

In night games: Tulsa at Memphis State, Youngstown State at Xavier, Texas A&M at Baylor, Southwestern Louisiana at Texas-As-Arlington, Wichita State at West Texas State, Tex-As-Pas at Arizona, Fresno State at San Diego State and Long Beach State at San Jose State.

Offensively, El Camino has the better of it. The Warriors have averaged 31 points per contest as compared to 17 for Long Beach.

Even the series record is a standoff — 10-10-1.

In comparing the 1972 El Camino squad to that which was No. 1 in the state last season, observers say this year's Warriors are faster and have more depth, but lack the individual brilliance of a year ago.

Tonight's game will be played against the backdrop of LBCC Homecoming 1972.

The largest crowd of the year is expected, and it might prove the stimulus which will be needed if LBCC is to remain a factor in the metro race.

LBCC receivers Allen Brown and Junior Lee have hauled in 27 passes for 474 yards and five touchdowns, while the El Camino duo of Larry Ferguson and John Crabtree have caught 31 for 496 yards and seven TDs.

Defensively, El Camino has the better of it. The Warriors have averaged 31 points per contest as compared to 17 for Long Beach.

Even the series record is a standoff — 10-10-1.

In comparing the 1972 El Camino squad to that which was No. 1 in the state last season, observers say this year's Warriors are faster and have more depth, but lack the individual brilliance of a year ago.

Tonight's game will be played against the backdrop of LBCC Homecoming 1972.

The largest crowd of the year is expected, and it might prove the stimulus which will be needed if LBCC is to remain a factor in the metro race.

LBCC receivers Allen Brown and Junior Lee have hauled in 27 passes for 474 yards and five touchdowns, while the El Camino duo of Larry Ferguson and John Crabtree have caught 31 for 496 yards and seven TDs.

Defensively, El Camino has the better of it. The Warriors have averaged 31 points per contest as compared to 17 for Long Beach.

Lambert hits four at S. Anita

Jerry Lambert piloted home four winners Friday, including favored Little Tada in the 15,000 Rey El Santa Anita Purse at the Oak Tree meeting.

Little Tada, bet down to the 3-2 pick of 11,846 fans, was in command early and ran easily until the final furlong when the 5-year-old chocolate mare held off fast-charging Gay Gift.

Weighted at 120 pounds, Little Tada paid backers $5, $3 and $2.60. Gay Gift came from last in the seven-horse field and was a head back at the wire, paying $3.60 and $2.60. Riccols was third at $4.20.

Time for the 6½ turf furlongs was 1:14 2-5 over a firm course.

Lambert, who trailed apprentice John Ramirez in the jockey derby early this week, moved into a commanding lead with 26 winners left in the Oak Tree meeting is favored to stave off the threat posed by Ramirez, with 22.

Groshawk will encounter opposition from only four fellow three-year-olds when he goes postward in today's $75,000-added Norfolk Stakes at a mile and one-sixteenth event which is emblematic of the two-year-old championship of Oak Tree Racing Assn.'s 20-day autumn season.
